

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
Introduction	ix
1
Why Any Educated Person Should Know the Bible	1
The Bible's Contribution to Understanding Reality	1
The Natural Sciences
The Social Sciences
The Humanities
Understanding the Bible as a Path to Understanding Ourselves	10
Understanding a Common Past
Communication in a Shared Present
The Bible's Contribution to Individual Identity
An Outsider's View:
The Findings of an Imagined Study of Religion	15
An Insider's View:
The Indispensability of Religion	21
2
Biblical "Essentials"	25
What Are the "Elementals" in the Bible?	26
The Bible's Basic Thought Structure
A Foundation for Learning and Life
Basic Structures and Contents of the Bible
What Is "Dialogical" in the Bible?	32
Dialogue with the Secular World
Interreligious Dialogue
Interconfessional Dialogue

3

The Heart of the Bible: Core Themes	35
The Two Basic Beliefs of Christian Faith	37
Monotheism
Belief in a Redeemer
Core Themes of Biblical Faith	42
Creation / Wisdom / Miracle / Alienation / Hope / Conversion
Exodus / Substitution / Divine Indwelling / Faith / Love ( Agapē )
Status Reversal / Judgment / Justification
Reading the Bible with Christ as Core	67
Forms and Themes	71

4

The Bible in Dialogue with a Pluralistic World	75
The Bible in Dialogue with Contemporary Secular Culture	76
Faith in God and Secular Experience / Faith in a Redeemer and Secular Experience / Secular Points of Entry for the Core Themes of the Bible
The Bible in Dialogue with Other Religions	100
Religious Typologies as an Attempt for an Overview of Religions / Judaism and the Bible: The Old Testament / Islam and the Bible: God and Jesus in the Qur'an / Hinduism and the Bible: Ahimsa and Nonviolence / Buddhism and the Bible: Anti-Darwinism as a Common Denominator? / The Bible and a Pluralistic Theory of Religion
The Bible in Interconfessional Dialogue	142
The Institution as Absolute: Catholicism and the Protestant Principle / The Letter as Absolute: Fundamentalism and the Protestant Principle / "Works" as Absolute: Social Moralism and the Protestant Principle
Conclusion	150
Notes	153
Index of Ancient Texts	155
Index of Names and Subjects	159