

Contents

Introduction: The Trinity as a Pastoral Model in the Face of Trauma	1
The Trinity as Pastoral Model	3
The September 11 WTC Disaster	3
The T. Mort. Chaplains	5
Trauma and Resilience	6
Pastoral Theology	10
Relationality	12
Reflection	15
1. The Trinity: From Immanent to Economic	19
The Pastoral Ethic of Love	19
God as Love	21
Image of God as Love in the Human Person	24
Love in Object Relations Thought	28
A Functional Model of the Economic Trinity	35
Reinterpreting the Trinity for Pastoral Practice	37
2. Earth-making: The Holding Space	39
Earth-making: The Cycle of Creation	40
Earth-making: A Theological Perspective	41
Earth-making/Holding in Winnicott's Thought	54
Earth-making/Holding as Pastoral Method	57
Holding of the Pastoral Caregiver	71
3. Pain-bearing: The Suffering Space	83
The Pain of Ministering to Those in Pain	85
Pain-bearing: A Theological Perspective	89
Pain-bearing/Suffering in Winnicott's Thought	101
Post-Traumatic Stress	106
Secondary Traumatic Stress	111
Chaplaincy and Compassion Fatigue	119
Winnicott's Contribution to Trauma Theory	125
Pain-Bearing/Suffering as Pastoral Method	141

4. Life-giving: The Transforming Space	144
Life-giving: A Theological Perspective   146
Life-giving/Transforming in Winnicott's Thought   165
Life-giving/Transforming as Pastoral Method   177
Conclusion: Trauma, Trinity, and Transformation: Earth-making, Pain-bearing, Life-giving	182
Notes	185
Indexes	194