

Table of Contents

Preface

Introduction: Plunging In

PART ONE: JUST BELOW THE SURFACE

1. The Riskiness of Childhood

Narcissism and Separation

Two Gifts from Parents

2. Wounds and Defensive Structures

Woundedness and Distortion

Defensive Structures

Detection of At-Risk Professionals

Cultural and Gender-based Influences

The Parents' Legacy

Development of Empathy

3. Living Between the Extremes

Off to Find the Wizard

The Defensive Posture

Defense Mechanisms

4. Protecting Against Future Hurts

Three Defensive Styles

Perception Distortions

Assessing One's Own Damage

PART TWO: DROWNING IN DEFENSIVE STRUCTURES

5. Narcissists: Seeking Love, Fearing Closeness

Derrick: Love Only Me

The Misunderstood Word

At The Beginning

Monica: A Narcissist's Later Years

Changes Necessary for Maturity

6. Depressed/Dependents: Afraid to Be Alone

Dan: I Feel Safe Here

The Emerging Third Structure

The Depressed/Dependent Defense Structure

7. Compulsives: Scared Stiff

Gail: Count on Her Every Time

Control: Never Lose It

Bernard: How Compulsives Are Made

Robert: A Compulsive in the Making

Criteria for Defining a Compulsive

David: Timely Treatment

8. Borderlines: Rage and Seduction

Abandoned on the Border of Acceptance

Ruth: An Intense Loneliness

PART THREE: TREADING AS FAST AS POSSIBLE

9. Systems and Religious Professionals

The Effects of Tribal Groups

The Nature of a System

Marriage: The Other System

10. Transference and Countertransference

Transference When Clergy Are Helpers

Countertransference and the Clergy

11. When Clergy Need Counseling

The Key to Wholeness

Treatment of the Professional

Therapy and Assessment

Conclusion: The Healthy Religious Professional

The Path to Awareness

The Growing Acceptance of Psychology

Mature Leader, Healthy Professional

Maturity for Adults

The Road Ahead

Appendix

Bibliography
Index