

Table of Contents

Preface
About the Contributors
Introduction

Part One: Black Theology and the Black Church

1. Calling the Oppression to Account: God and Black Suffering
James H. Cone
2. Doing Black Theology in the Black Church
Jeremiah A. Wright Jr.
3. Testimony as Hope and Care: African American Pastoral Care as Black Theology at Work
Lee H. Butler Jr.
4. Black Theology and the Black Church
Karen E. Mosby-Avery
5. Womanist Theology, Epistemology, and a New Anthropological
Paradigm
Linda E. Thomas

Part Two: Black Theology and the White Church

6. A White Feminist Response to Black and Womanist Theologies
Rosemary Radford Ruether
7. What I Learned from James Cone and Black Theology
D. Stephan Long
8. Reconsidering Evangelism: Lessons from Black Liberation and Womanist Theologies
Lacey Warner

9. Black Theology and the White Church in the Third Millennium: Like a Thief in the Night
Jim Perkinson

Part: Three: Black Theology and Global Religions

10. Black Theology's Impact on the Ecumenical Association of Third World Theologians
Jose David Rodriguez
11. The Outsider's Role in Socially Engaged Scholarship on African Religion
Linda E. Thomas
12. Black Theology and Ecumenism
Iva E. Carruthers
13. American Indian Religious Traditions, Colonialism, Resistance, and Liberation
George E. Tinker
14. Ecology as Experience in African Indigenous Religions
Edward P. Antonio
15. A Theological Reflection on the Korean People's Han and Hanpuri
Yvonne Lee
16. A Black American Perspective on Interfaith Dialogue
Dwight N. Hopkins

Part Four: Black Theology and a Persevering Faith

17. Living Stones in the Household of God
M. Shawn Copeland
18. On Keeping Faith with the Center
Emilie M. Townes

19. The Vocation of a Theologian
James H. Cone

Notes