Contents

Being George Eliot: An Impossible Standpoint? vii
Janice McRandal

1. Exegetical Mysticism: Scripture, Paideia, and the Spiritual Senses 1
Benjamin Myers

2. The "How" of Transformation in Levinas and Coakley 15
Annette Pierdziwol

3. Sacrifice Regained in the Light of God, Sexuality, and the Self and "Flesh and Blood": Objections and Replies, or How I Changed My Mind 49
Eugene F. Rogers Jr.

4. Getting Lost at Sea? Apophasis, Antisociality, and the (In-) Stability of Academic Theology 67
Brandy R. Daniels

5. The Body and the Body of the Church: Coakley, Yoder, and the Imitation of Christ 99
Myles Werntz

6. The Winnowing and Hallowing of Doctrine: Extending the Program of the Father of Modern Theology? 115
Nicola Hoggard Creegan

7. Why Kenoticism Rests on a Mistake: Reflections on the Christologies of Sarah Coakley and Gregory of Nyssa 139
Dennis W. Jowers

8. Sarah Coakley and the Prayers of the Digital Body of Christ 159
Matthew John Paul Tan

9. Power, Sin, and Epistemic Transformation in Sarah Coakley's Theology: Reading Coakley with Foucault 187
Janice McRandal

10. From Evelyn Underhill to Sarah Coakley: Women Teaching Theology and the English Context 203
Stephen Burns

Author Biographies 227

Published Work by Sarah Coakley 231