

CONTENTS

General Editor's Foreword to Dietrich Bonhoeffer Works	vii
Abbreviations	xiii
Editor's Introduction to the English Edition, Wayne Whitson Floyd, Jr.	1
Act and Being
The Problem	25
A. The Problem of Act and Being, Portrayed in a Preparatory Manner as the Epistemological Problem of an Autonomous Understanding of Dasein in Philosophy	33
1. The Transcendental Attempt	33
2. The Ontological Attempt	59
B. The Problem of Act and Being in the Interpretation of Revelation and the Church as the Solution to the Problem	81
1. The Interpretation of Revelation in Terms of the Concept of Act	81
a) The Contingency of Revelation	81
b) Knowledge of Revelation	91
c) The Person of Decision	96
2. The Interpretation of Revelation in Terms of Being	103
a) The 'Being' of Revelation	103
b) The Knowledge of Revelation	107
c) Human Being as "Being in . . ."	108

3. The Church as the Unity of Act and Being	109
a) The Church as the Place Where Dasein Is Understood	109
b) The Mode of Being of Revelation in the Church	110
c) The Mode of Being of Human Beings in the Church	116
d) The Question of Knowledge and the Idea of the Church	123
C. The Problem of Act and Being in the Concrete Teaching concerning Human Beings “in Adam” and “in Christ”	136
1. Being in Adam	136
a) Definition of ‘Being’ in Adam	136
b) ‘Adam’ as I and as Humanity	144
c) Everydayness, Knowledge of Conscience, and Temptation	147
2. Being in Christ	150
a) The Definition of ‘Being’ in Christ	150
b) The Definition of Being in Christ through the Past: The Conscience	155
c) The Definition of Being in Christ by Means of the Future: The Child	157
Editor’s Afterword to the German Edition, Hans-Richard Reuter	162
Chronology	184
Bibliography	187
1. Literature Used by Bonhoeffer	187
2. Literature Consulted by the Editors	195
3. Other Literature Related to Act and Being	205
Index of Scriptural References	211
Index of Names	213
Index of Subjects	218
Editor and Translator	239